Two Texas Tech Researchers Working Toward Universal Flu Vaccine

Utah State University virology Professor Bart Tarbet is collaborating with Texas Tech researchers to create a universal vaccine that would prevent millions of flu infections. Tarbet will lead the effort to test the vaccine against the H5N1 and H7N9 bird-flu strains in animals. View the entire story here:
Two Texas Tech researchers - Everything Lubbock